August 11, 2009)

16 WACHOVIA SECURITIES, LLC
17 Plaintiff,
vs.
18 WILLIAM ROBERT HOLLAND,
19 Defendant.

Adv. No.

COMPLAINT TO DETERMINE
NONDISCHARGEABILITY OF DEBT BY
CREDITOR WACHOVIA SECURITIES, LLC

[11 U.S.C. § 523(a)(6)]

I.

The Parties

1. Plaintiff Wachovia Securities, LLC ("Wachovia") is a limited liability company with its principal place of business in St. Louis, Missouri.

2. Defendant William Robert Holland (the "Debtor") is the debtor in the above-referenced Chapter 11 proceeding. The Debtor resides in El Cajon, California.

II.

Jurisdiction

3. This Court has jurisdiction over the subject matter of this action pursuant to 28 U.S.C. § 157(b)(1) and 28 U.S.C. § 1334(b). This proceeding arises in and relates to the Chapter 7 bankruptcy case of the Debtor, Case No. 08-12833-LT7, now pending in this Court (“the Case”).

4. This adversary proceeding is brought pursuant to Federal Rule of Bankruptcy Procedure 7001, 11 U.S.C. §§ 105 and 544, and 28 U.S.C. §1334. Venue is proper pursuant to 28 U.S.C. § 1409.

5. This is a core proceeding with the meaning of 28 U.S.C. § 157(b)(2)(J).

6. On December 16, 2008, the Debtor filed a voluntary petition for relief under Chapter 11 of Title 11, United States Code (the “Code”). On August 10, 2009, on the Debtor’s motion, the Debtor’s case was converted to Chapter 7 of the Code.

7. Wachovia is a creditor in this bankruptcy proceeding.

III.

General Statement

8. By this Complaint, Wachovia seeks a non-dischargeability order as to two debts. The first debt is a judgment for $444,496.84, plus interest, comprised in large part of attorney's fees awarded to Wachovia arising from the Debtor's misconduct in connection with an employment-related arbitration. Normally such attorney's fees are not awarded, but the Debtor's bad conduct prompted the arbitration panel to impose the award.

1           9.       The second debt, which is in excess of $100,000, constitutes the expense
 2 Wachovia incurred over a ten month period in connection with Debtor's continuing bad conduct
 3 in frivolously resisting the entry of the underlying arbitration award as a judgment in the Superior
 4 Court.

5                          IV.

6                          General Allegations

7           A.       The Debtor Asserts Frivolous Arbitration Claims for Wrongful Termination, and 8                          Wachovia Counter-Claims for Unpaid Debts

9           10.      On October 3, 2005, the Debtor initiated an arbitration proceeding (the 10 "Arbitration") against Wachovia, and others, by filing a petition with FINRA (Financial Industry 11 Regulatory Authority). As a financial advisor employed by Wachovia, a FINRA member, the 12 Debtor had the option, but was not required, to initiate his claims in the FINRA forum.

13           11.      In the Arbitration, the Debtor alleged wrongful termination, breach of 14 contract, breach of the covenant of good faith and fair dealing, discrimination based on age,
 15 interference with prospective economic advantage, RICO violations, civil conspiracy, and slander
 16 against Wachovia (the "Arbitration Claim"). The Debtor requested compensatory damages in 17 excess of $1,000,000.00, punitive damages, treble damages, and costs, including attorney's fees.
 18 Wachovia denied the Debtor's allegations. Ultimately, the Debtor dismissed his RICO and 19 slander claims from his Arbitration Claim.

20           12.      The Arbitration Claim alleged that Wachovia had wrongfully terminated
 21 the Debtor's employment on or about November 18, 2004. Among other things, the Debtor 22 alleged he had been terminated "on account of his age," in order to re-assign his accounts to 23 younger financial advisors in the office, whose share in account revenues would be less than the 24 Debtor's had been.

25           13.      Wachovia denied it had terminated the Debtor in "bad faith" on account of 26 his age or a desire to retain and "re-assign" his accounts. Rather, the Debtor had been terminated
 27 after Wachovia had received at least 17 complaints about his performance from his customers

1 over a 3-year period, including an NYSE (New York Stock Exchange) and NASD (National 2 Association Of Securities Dealers) investigation; after the Debtor received warnings from 3 Wachovia management; and after the Debtor was placed on “heightened supervision” because of 4 his repeated failures to comply with Wachovia’s rules and its basic supervision requirements, as 5 well as NYSE Rule 408, which forbids the exercise of any discretionary power in a customer’s
6 account without first obtaining written authorization of the customer.

7       14. In the same Arbitration, Wachovia asserted a counterclaim against the 8 Debtor, alleging that the Debtor owed money to Wachovia pursuant to a Retention Bonus
9 Program. In a supplemental counterclaim, Wachovia alleged that the Debtor violated the 10 Computer Fraud and Abuse Act and misappropriated trade secrets. Wachovia requested 11 $72,402.84 due under the Retention Bonus Program and accrued interest thereon, as well as 12 additional compensatory damages, injunctive relief preventing the Debtor from utilizing the 13 confidential information unlawfully obtained and requiring the return of all such information, as 14 well as punitive and treble damages.

15       B. After a Ten-Day Hearing, the Arbitration Panel Dismisses the Debtor’s Claims And 16       Orders Him to Pay Wachovia

17       15. Ten days of hearings were conducted in the Arbitration from October 8, 18 2007 through October 19, 2007.

19       16. Over the course of the ten hearing days, the Debtor offered lengthy oral 20 argument, and called witnesses (both hostile and friendly), including an expert witness, as well as 21 offering numerous documentary exhibits. In rebuttal, Wachovia introduced documentary and oral 22 evidence concerning the number and the nature of customer complaints against the Debtor, the 23 investigations conducted by Wachovia and by the regulatory authorities with respect to those 24 complaints, the warnings given by Wachovia to the Debtor, and the Debtor’s placement on 25 heightened supervision.

26       17. In response to the Debtor’s age discrimination claims, Wachovia
27 introduced evidence that during the five calendar-year period from January 1, 2000 through 28

1 December 31, 2004, Wachovia had involuntarily terminated only one other financial advisor
2 besides the Debtor over the age of 50 in the entire Southern California region (comprised of San 3 Diego, Orange and Los Angeles counties).

4       18. After the Debtor rested his case in chief at the evidentiary hearing,
5 Wachovia moved for a directed verdict and filed a dispositive motion on November 20, 2007.
6 The motion was fully briefed by the parties (including a sur-reply by Holland). After oral 7 argument on February 6, 2008, and after due deliberation, a FINRA arbitration panel (the 8 “Panel”) concluded that there was no evidence of wrongful conduct by Wachovia. The Panel
9 concluded that Wachovia did not act in bad faith with respect to the Debtor. The Panel further 10 concluded that the Debtor was an at-will employee, and that, although cause was not required to 11 terminate the Debtor’s employment, Wachovia did, in fact, have adequate cause to do so.

12       19. Accordingly, on February 12, 2008, the Panel issued a unanimous decision
13 dismissing the Debtor’s claims in their entirety, with prejudice.

14       20. The Panel held subsequent evidentiary hearings on May 1 and 2, 2008, 15 regarding Wachovia’s counterclaims against the Debtor. On May 7, 2008, the Panel issued its 16 decision in favor of Wachovia on its counterclaims against the Debtor for repayment of the 17 unvested portions of the Debtor’s retention bonuses and ordering that the Debtor remit to 18 Wachovia payment of $72,402.84 plus simple interest at the rate of 5% per annum from January 19 10, 2005, until paid.

20 C. The Panel Awards Wachovia Attorney’s Fees and Costs Because of Debtor’s Bad
21 Conduct

22       21. After dismissing all of the Debtor’s claims and ruling in Wachovia’s favor
23 on its counterclaim, the Panel set June 11, 2008 for oral argument on the remaining issue of 24 attorney’s fees and costs against the Debtor.

25       22. Wachovia and the Debtor fully briefed the issue of attorney’s fees and 26 costs before the June 11th hearing, and presented oral arguments at the hearing itself. The Debtor 27 acknowledged in his Opposition to Respondents’ Motion for Attorneys Fees and Costs, which

1 was filed in the Arbitration: “Respondents are entitled to attorney fees under FEHA only in the 2 rare case where Claimants’ actions are found to be unreasonable, frivolous, meritless or
 3 vexatious. Rosenman v. Christensen, 91 Cal. App. 4th 859, 864 (2001); Cummings v. Benco
 4 Bldg. Servs., 11 Cal. App. 4th 1383 , 1387 (1992) (citing Christianburg Garment Co. v. EEOC, 5 434 U.S. 412, 421 (1978)). This requirement is commonly known as the ‘Christianburg standard.’
 6 Only a small number of cases, where plaintiff’s actions were so egregious, have survived the 7 Christiansburg standard.” (Emphasis added.)

8           23.     The Panel ruled that the Debtor’s age discrimination claim was “frivolous”
 9 and, therefore, issued an attorney’s fees award against the Debtor under Cal. Govt. Code
 10 §12965(b) and the authorities cited by Wachovia in its May 22, 2008 brief.

11           24.     Indeed, the Panel determined that the Debtor acted in bad faith because: (1) 12 he aggressively litigated the case long after learning, in discovery, that no other older financial 13 advisors were terminated in the relevant time-period and his book of accounts was not assigned to 14 younger financial advisors; and (2) the evidence was overwhelming that the Debtor was placed on 15 heightened supervision due to at least 17 customer complaints Wachovia received about the 16 Debtor and was terminated after refusing to comply with the terms of heightened supervision.

17           25.     The Panel issued a ruling apportioning 80% of certain costs incurred by 18 Wachovia to the Debtor (with the remaining 20% apportioned against the Debtor’s co-claimant).
 19 Excluded from the award were Wachovia’s claims for costs incurred for experts and transcripts,
 20 because neither were ordered by FINRA.

21           26.     After considering the parties’ pleadings, testimony, evidence and briefings,
 22 the Panel issued an award that: (i) each and every claim of the Debtor be denied in its entirety
 23 and dismissed with prejudice; (ii) the Debtor pay Wachovia the sum of $72,402.84 in 24 compensatory damages; (iii) the Debtor pay simple interest on $72,402.84 at the rate of 5% per 25 annum from January 10, 2005 until paid; and (iv) the Debtor pay Wachovia the sum of 26 $372,094.00 pursuant to Cal. Govt. Code section 12965(b) and the various authorities cited by 27 Wachovia in its May 22, 2008 brief (the “Arbitration Award”). The Arbitration Award against

1 the Debtor in favor of Wachovia totaled $444,496.84, plus interest, and was served on the Debtor
2 on September 4, 2008.

3 D. The Debtor's Harmful Conduct Continues Via His Repeated Willful and Malicious
4 Efforts to Forum Shop and Stall Entry of Judgment on the Arbitration Award

5 (1) The Debtor's First Frivolous Filing is Rejected by the Superior Court

6 27. On April 18, 2008, after the Panel granted Wachovia's motion for 7 judgment, but before the Panel issued the Arbitration Award, the Debtor filed a petition to vacate
8 in the California Superior Court (the "State Court Petition"), before Judge Rafael A. Arreola, as 9 well as seeking an ex parte temporary restraining order to stop the Panel from entering an award
10 in Wachovia's favor. On April 23, 2008, the Superior Court denied the Debtor's petition, ruling
11 that the Debtor's requests were premature and staying the matter in order to give the Panel 12 sufficient time to enter an award.

13 (2) The Debtor's Frivolous Writ is Rejected by the Court of Appeal in One Day

14 28. On April 28, 2008, seeking to overturn the Superior Court's April 23, 2008
15 decision, the Debtor filed a writ of supersedeas with the California Court of Appeal. The writ
16 was denied the following day, on April 29, 2008.

17 29. On September 24, 2008, the Debtor filed an amended petition to vacate the 18 arbitration award in the Superior Court (the "State Court Petition"). On September 25, 2008, 19 Wachovia filed a cross-petition to confirm the Arbitration award ("Cross-Petition to Confirm").
20 The parties stipulated on September 26, 2008, to have the State Court Amended Petition heard on 21 November 6, 2008.

22 (3) Clearly Forum Shopping, The Debtor Duplicates His Petition in the Federal
23 Court

24 30. Also on September 26, 2008 -- the same day the parties entered the 25 stipulation -- the Debtor, through different counsel, filed a duplicate petition to vacate the 26 Arbitration Award in the United States District Court (the "Duplicate Federal Petition"), before
27 Judge William Q. Hayes. The Duplicate Federal Petition was set for a January 26, 2009 hearing.

1           31. On October 3, 2008, the Debtor voluntarily dismissed his State Court
 2 Amended Petition. However, the November 6, 2008, hearing regarding the Cross-Petition to 3 Confirm remained in the Superior Court.

4           (4) The Debtor Improvidently Removes the Superior Court Case

5           32. On October 28, 2008, in a further attempt to halt the November 6, 2008
 6 hearing, the Debtor removed the Superior Court proceedings to the United States District Court
 7 before Judge Jeffrey T. Miller. Judge Miller remanded the case on November 5, 2008, holding 8 that “there is no federal question presented by the motion to confirm the arbitration award,” and 9 holding that the action was “improvidently removed.”

10          33. At the November 6, 2008, hearing, the Debtor informed the Superior Court
 11 that he had filed the duplicate Federal Petition and requested a continuance to allow him time to 12 reinstate his own State Court Petition to vacate (which he had previously dismissed) and to file an 13 opposition to Wachovia’s Cross-Petition to Confirm. Based on the Debtor’s representations to 14 the State Court that he needed additional time to file an opposition, the State Court continued the 15 November 6, 2008 hearing to December 17, 2008.

16          (5) The Debtor’s Removal Tactics Having Failed, He Seeks to Enjoin the 17          Superior Court and Otherwise Stall It from Ruling on the Arbitration Award

18          34. On November 11, 2008, the Debtor sought yet again to stop the State Court
 19 Action by moving the United States District Court (before Judge Hayes), for an ex parte
 20 injunction against the State Court to halt the December 17, 2008 hearing. Judge Hayes rejected 21 the motion, ruling that “the state court has jurisdiction to resolve [Wachovia’s] petition to confirm 22 the arbitration award and [Wachovia is] entitled to go forward in the state court.”

23          35. On December 8, 2008, the Debtor moved the Superior Court, ex parte, to 24 continue the December 17, 2008 hearing so that Judge Hayes could hear the Federal Petition,
 25 first. At the December 8 hearing, Judge Arreola informed the Debtor that the Superior Court 26 would not continue the hearing again. In response, at the hearing, the Debtor reinstated his 27 Petition to Vacate in the Superior Court before Judge Arreola.

1                   (6)     The Debtor Files a Chapter 11 Petition to Halt the Hearing in the Superior
 2                   Court, And Removes the Action to This Court Before The Automatic Stay
 3                   Could be Lifted

4                 36.     On December 16, 2008, the eve of the December 17, 2008 hearing, the 5     Debtor filed his bankruptcy case. Although acknowledging that the Case automatically stayed the 6     Superior Court, the Debtor initially argued that it did not stay the District Court.

7                 37.     On January 20, 2009, Wachovia moved the Bankruptcy Court for relief
 8     from the automatic stay in order to proceed in the Superior Court before Judge Arreola.
 9     However, on January 30, 2009, the Debtor removed the Superior Court action to this Court.

10               38.     On February 4, 2009, Wachovia filed a motion to remand the State Court
 11     Action back to the Superior Court.

12               (7)     The Debtor is Finally Forced Back to the Superior Court Action He Himself
 13                   Started

14               39.     On February 27, 2009, this Court entered an order that it would remand the 15     State Court Action if District Court Judge Hayes remanded the Duplicate Federal Petition. On 16     May 18, 2009, Judge Hayes denied the Debtor's Duplicate Federal Petition for lack of federal 17     subject matter jurisdiction. Accordingly, on May 28, 2009, this Court remanded the State Court
 18     Petition to Judge Arreola in the Superior Court.

 20                   Duplicate Petition In an Effort to Forum Shop a New Judge

21               40.     On May 20, 2009, before this Court's remand order, the Debtor filed yet
 22     another duplicate petition to vacate in the Superior Court, this time before a new judge. The 23     Debtor moved the new judge, ex parte, to advance the hearing on his duplicate petition so that 24     Judge Arreola would not have an opportunity to rule. However, when confronted by Wachovia
 25     with transcripts proving that the Debtor had a duplicate petition pending before Judge Arreola, the 26     Debtor dismissed the duplicate Superior Court proceeding and consented to be heard by Judge
 27     Arreola.

E. The Debtor's Wasteful Conduct is Finally Rebuked When the Judgment Is Finally Entered, After Ten Months of Delay

41. On July 1, 2009, Judge Arreola of the Superior Court entered a judgment against the Debtor on the Arbitration Award (the "Judgment"). The Judgment ordered the Debtor to pay to Wachovia: (i) $72,402.84 in compensatory damages; (ii) simple interest on $72,402.84 at the rate of 5% per annum from January 10, 2005 until paid; (iii) $372,094.00 in attorney's fees and costs; and (iv) simple interest on $372,094.00 at the rate of 10% per annum from September 4, 2008 until paid.

42. The $372,094 portion of the Judgment, and interest thereon (the “Fee Judgment”), was awarded by the Panel based on the Debtor’s prosecution of frivolous claims in the Arbitration.

V.

First Claim For Relief

[Denial of Discharge Pursuant to 11 U.S.C. § 523(a)(6)]

43. Wachovia repeats and realleges each of the allegations contained in Paragraphs 1 through 42 as though fully set forth herein.

44. The Debtor filed and pursued his frivolous Arbitration Claim in 2005 deliberately and intentionally to cause injury to Wachovia. The Panel found that the Debtor's claims and pursuit of the claims by the Debtor were frivolous and granted Wachovia the Arbitration Award, which included Wachovia's attorney's fees and costs. The Arbitration Award was ultimately entered into a Judgment by the Superior Court for $444,496.84, plus interest.

45. As referenced in the Debtor's own briefing on the issue, an attorney's fee award under Cal. Govt. Code §12965(b) is rarely granted, and only where the claims are "unreasonable, frivolous, meritless or vexatious." The Panel ruled that the Debtor's conduct arose to this strict standard and awarded the attorney's fees on that basis.

46. The Debtor's willful and malicious conduct towards Wachovia continued after the Arbitration, and the Debtor's scorched earth tactics and forum shopping antics have

1 caused Wachovia to incur in excess of $100,000 of additional attorney's fees in its efforts to
2 collect on the Judgment it is owed.

3       47. The Debtor willfully and maliciously injured Wachovia and in the absence
4 of said willful and malicious injury to Wachovia, Wachovia would not have incurred the losses
5 attributable to the Debtor.

6       48. The Debtor's conduct was willful insofar as the Debtor had a subjective
7 motive to inflict the injury and/or believed the injury was substantially certain to occur as a result 8 of his conduct.

9       49. The Debtor's conduct was malicious insofar as it was comprised of 10 wrongful acts, done intentionally, that necessarily caused injury, and were committed without just 11 cause or excuse.

12       50. The Debtor's conduct violates 11 USC § 523(a)(6) and, therefore, the 13 entire Judgment, or at minimum, a portion thereof, constitutes a nondischargeable debt.
14 Similarly, Wachovia's attorney's fees incurred in enforcing the Arbitration Award and Judgment 15 are a nondischargeable debt.

18 WHEREFORE, Wachovia Securities, LLC respectfully requests the Court:

- 19       1. Enter judgment against the Debtor exempting Wachovia's entire Judgment, or a 20 portion thereof, from any order granting discharge, pursuant to 11 U.S.C. § 21 523(a)(6);
- 22       2. Enter judgment against the Debtor exempting Wachovia's attorney's fees and 23 costs in enforcing the Arbitration Award and Judgment, pursuant to 11 U.S.C. §
24 523(a)(6);
- 25       3. Grant Wachovia the costs and disbursements of this action, including reasonable 26 attorney's fees and expenses; and

1           4. Grant Wachovia such other relief as the Court deems just and proper.

INSTRUCTIONS

The filing of a bankruptcy case creates an "estate" under the jurisdiction of the bankruptcy court which consists of all of the property of the debtor, wherever that property is located. Because the bankruptcy estate is so extensive and the jurisdiction of the court so broad, there may be lawsuits over the property or property rights of the estate. There also may be lawsuits concerning the debtor's discharge. If such a lawsuit is filed in a bankruptcy court, it is called an adversary proceeding.

A party filing an adversary proceeding must also complete and file Form 104, the Adversary Proceeding Cover Sheet, unless the party files the adversary proceeding electronically through the court's Case Management/Electronic Case Filing system (CM/ECF). In some courts, the cover sheet is not required when the adversary proceeding is filed electronically through the court's Case Management/Electronic Case Files (CM/ECF) system. (CM/ECF captures the information on Form 104 as part of the filing process.) When completed, the cover sheet summarizes basic information on the adversary proceeding. The clerk of court needs the information to process the adversary proceeding and prepare required statistical reports on court activity.

The cover sheet and the information contained on it do not replace or supplement the filing and service of pleadings or other papers as required by law, the Bankruptcy Rules, or the local rules of court. The cover sheet, which is largely self-explanatory, must be completed by the plaintiff's attorney (or by the plaintiff if the plaintiff is not represented by an attorney). A separate cover sheet must be submitted to the clerk for each complaint filed.

Plaintiffs and Defendants. Give the names of the plaintiffs and the defendants exactly as they appear on the complaint.

Attorneys. Give the names and addresses of the attorneys, if known.

Party. Check the most appropriate box in the first column for the plaintiffs and in the second column for the defendants.

Demand. Enter the dollar amount being demanded in the complaint.

Signature. This cover sheet must be signed by the attorney of record in the box on the second page of the form. If the plaintiff is represented by a law firm, a member of the firm must sign. If the plaintiff is pro se, that is, not represented by an attorney, the plaintiff must sign.
